

No call centers. No back and forth emails. A dedicated person that cares about your success.

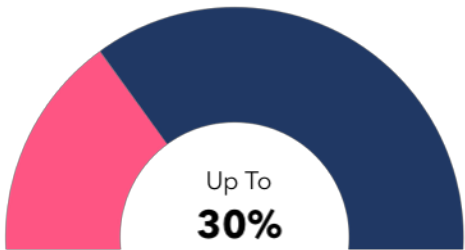

As an office space expert, your dedicated Experience Manager is your go-to for operational questions, service needs, and office growth strategy. They take the time to get to know your business while providing active solutions to your biggest office needs

Your office on autopilot.

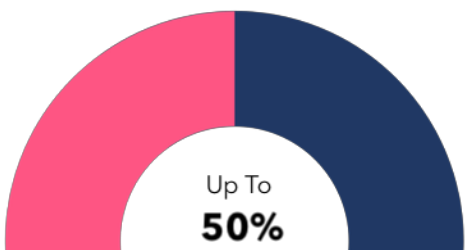

From cleaning to catering, we handle all your office details and consolidate your services and amenities into one monthly invoice. With Airspace you have peace of mind knowing that you're receiving the best quality service at the most competitive prices from our trusted partners.

🕒 Cost Savings

🕒 Time Savings

Active solutions not passive options.

Your dedicated experience manager provides routine office checks to make sure your space is operating smoothly. Actively providing assistance before issues manifest into problems.

Spend less time planning, your Experience Manager is here.

Whether it's a office happy hour, professional workshop, or special occasion - your experience manager takes on the details and brings your event to life. EM's also host Airspace wide workshops and networking events.

One invoice across all services and amenities.

Catering, coffee, cleaning, conference room software subscriptions, and every other service you choose through Airspace is seamlessly itemized and invoiced monthly in one place.

We eliminate growing pains by scaling your service and amenities for you.

With as little as one directly call, text, or email to your Experience Manager you can scale the services and amenities your office receives. No need to stay on the phone with vendors or wait to hear back.